ALLIES PUT AN END TO THE CONFERENCE INTER-ISLAND CAPTAINS MAY QUIT ON MONDAY

Members of the Harbor Insist They Are Prepared to Resign from Company's Service Now—Officials of Corporation Saying Nothing but Sawing Wood—Reports of Disaffection in Ranks of the Skippers' Association Are Growing Rife Many Members Believed to Be Opposed to Policy Adopted by Leaders

It is more than likely that, as far as the present captains are concerned, the ships of the Inter-Island Steam Navigation Company will be tied up after Monday morning. Such at least was the general consensus of opinion this morning, among many on the inside of the present embroglio.

In spite of this it was evident that the company is prepared to run its boats no matter what the captains may see fit to do. Vice-President McLean said as much, and while President Kennedy declined to say anything for publication, declaring that he preferred to remain in the background, he also showed perfect confidence in the outcome of the pending struggle.

On the other hand, the captains, although none of them wanted themselves to be quoted, were equally confident of victory. One of them asserted that the trouble "would not last ten days." Another declared that he had been in favor of resigning from the company at once and letting the fight begin at once, instead of waiting for Sunday. "The sooner it starts the sooner it will be over," he added.

Judge Thompson, counsel for the Harbor, said this morning that the men were standing on firm ground. Just as firm as they occupied at the outbreak of the last conflict. He added:

"This regulation, which I believe is binding upon the company and upon the federal inspector, charged with the duty of granting licenses, Captain Howe, is the strongest point in our favor."

The regulation reads in part: "Any applicant for an original license to act as master of any steam pilot boat, or of steamers in the Alaskan seas, or of steamers engaged in the business of whale fishing, or of steamers engaged in the Atlantic or Pacific or Gulf Coast fisheries, or of steamers or sail vessels navigating between ports of the Hawaiian Islands or between ports on the island of Porto Rico, must have had at least three years experience in the deck department of such steamers, which fact must be verified by documentary evidence, and such applicant shall only be subject to such examination as shall satisfy the inspectors that the applicant is capable of navigating such vessel, etc."

This, say the captains, will prevent the Inter-Island company from installing any of the new men the corporation has brought down from the coast, should the present masters quit their jobs. What the company thinks of this, could not be definitely learned, although one of the officials laughed this morning when asked concerning it.

"That regulation is not worrying us a little bit," he said. "Indeed if any one would worry over it, I imagine it would be the Harbor members."

He declined to explain further.

MANY RELUCTANT TO DESERT VESSELS

The Inter-Island Steam Navigator Company stands ready to operate their steamers and maintain a passenger, freight and mail service between Honolulu and the island ports, despite any attitude to the contrary that may be taken by the masters and mates included in Harbor Number 54, who believe that they have a grievance with the steamship company.

Such is the impression gained today following a series of conferences held by the officials connected with the Inter-Island Steam Navigation Company. The company is now known to have stood on maintaining the policy under assumed the attitude that they insist on maintaining the policy under which their vessels are to operate, the naming of employees, and if the present staff of officers that now navigate the sixteen vessels in the fleet, are reluctant to continue in the employ of the

DEVELOPMENTS IN INTER-ISLAND TANGLE

The members of the harbor expect to hold a meeting soon, probably Sunday, and at that time, resolve to resign from the service of the company in a body.

Considerable discontent at the plans of the leaders of the captains is becoming manifest among a number of mates of the Inter-Island steamers, who declare themselves perfectly satisfied with the treatment they are now receiving.

Assertion on the part of the captains that a regulation of the U. S. Treasury department makes three years' experience in the island waters necessary before any applicant can secure a master's license to navigate down here, is laughed at by officials of the Inter-Island.

FREAR'S FOES RENEW FIGHT AGAINST HIM

Truce That Existed While Fish-er's Investigation Was On, Comes to an End—Delegate Files Protest—Kinney Appears in Conflict

By C. S. ALBERT

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence) WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 18.—The fight against Governor Frear has been renewed. Opposition to his confirmation is being manifested all along the line. The truce that seemed to exist during Secretary Fisher's investigation no longer holds water.

Delegate Kalaniano'ole has filed a vigorous and forceful protest against the confirmation of Governor Frear.

Thrilling Chase Of Runaway Logs At Pearl Harbor

Thrilling experiences with runaway logs are not confined to the lumber camps of the northern woods. In fact, the "logging romance belt" extends clear to Pearl Harbor.

Last night the marine guard stationed at the new navy yard played leading roles in a drama of the bucking timbers. One hundred and fifty heavy piles, which had been confined by a boom alongside of the coaling wharf site, went on the rampage when the boom broke, and started to cruise around the harbor on their own account. Sergeant White, of the marine guard, transformed his command into lumber jacks for the time being, and succeeded in making the boom fast again after fifty logs had escaped. Fortunately the tide was coming in, and none of the runaways drifted out to sea.

This morning the admiral's steam barge was sent down from Honolulu to search for the missing piles and tow them back to their proper anchorage.

IMMIGRATION TEST IS PUT OVER QUICKLY

Some Inside Facts Are Told About How Literacy Provision Got Through

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 22.—Conferees on the immigration bill today agreed to eliminate the certificate of character clause of the bill, which it was claimed would bar many Jewish immigrants from Russia and Roumania. The conferees did not share the view of those objecting to the clause but conceded the point in the interest of expedition.

Several other minor changes were agreed upon.

Give the Ottoman Empire Four Days in Which to Prepare—Receipt of Note from Porte, Refusing to Surrender Either Adrianople or the Aegean Islands Brings Hope for Peace Crashing—Mussulman Army Reported in Dire Straits—Draft Animals and Men Swept by Sickness—Condition of Troops Pitiful

CONSTANTINOPLE, Jan. 30.—The Sublime Porte today submitted to the powers the formal reply to their joint notes. Turkey refuses to yield to the demand that she surrender Adrianople and the islands of the Aegean sea. She promises to dismantle the city, retaining only the sacred mosques

TO RESUME WAR

LONDON, Jan. 30.—The allies have refused to accept the terms offered by the Sultan in his note to the powers. They characterize them as absurd. They at once notified the powers that the armistice will come to an end in four days.

Rigidly censored dispatches from Constantinople announce that the army is now in a state bordering on mutiny. They also hint at a great catastrophe. It is regarded here as quite possible that a civil war has broken out in Asia Minor and that Constantinople is rapidly being engulfed in the wave of discontent that rose when Enver Bey killed Nazim Pasha.

More than 60,000 transport animals and 14,000 soldiers have been killed by the sickness. The Circassians are known to have mutinied and the army that is supposed to be protecting the Dardanelles is known to be on the verge of outbreak, and utterly unreliable in case of offensive operations and uncertain even for defense.

LABOR PARTY PUTS 3,000,000 VOTES BEHIND WOMEN

LONDON, Jan. 30.—The Labor party, representing three million voters, added a new and almost unlooked-for feature to the women's suffrage controversy last night when its representatives announced that the party had resolved to endorse the suffrage bill that will exclude women from the right to vote. The announcement is hailed as a big victory for the suffragists.

CASTRO MUST LEAVE THE COUNTRY

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—The secretary of commerce and labor today definitely decided that Castro, former President of Venezuela, is an undesirable citizen and turned down his application for admission into the United States. Castro's attorneys declare that they will carry the fight further up, if necessary.

SOCIALIST MAYOR TURNS DOWN BID

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 30.—Stitt Wilson, the Socialist mayor of Berkeley, California, has refused to accept an invitation to the three dollars banquet to be given by the Associated Charities of this city. He gives as his reason that the moving pictures, which will portray scenes of the starving poor, are vulgar, ostentatious, and nothing short of pagan.

TAFT RENAMES STRATTON AS COLLECTOR

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 30.—President Taft today nominated Collector of the Port Frederick Stratton to succeed himself, according to telegraphic advices reaching here today. Collector Stratton's appointment will, in all probability, be held up by the Bourbons at the national capital, together with many other civil appointments made by the president.

BRYAN DENIES RUMOR OF PORTFOLIO JOB

MIAMI, Okla., Jan. 30.—William Jennings Bryan today formally denied recent newspaper statements to the effect that he has accepted an offer of the portfolio of secretary of state under President Wilson. Nevertheless the rumors are persistent that he has been picked for the job.

MAN ACCUSED OF MURDER IS ON TRIAL

For the murder of Private Bostic at Iwilei on the night of June 11, 1912, in an affray that came to a climax to a carousal in which "dago red" figured as the beverage, Benito Galmendez was placed on trial in Circuit Judge Robinson's court this morning. The empanelling of a jury was halted by the lack of veniremen, and the hearing will be taken up again at 8:30 o'clock tomorrow morning with a special venire of fifteen men called to be examined as possible jurors.

The fatal battle, for participation in which Galmendez may be held to answer with his life, was a particularly gresome and mysterious affair that puzzled the authorities for several weeks. One man was shot in the back and lay at the Queen's hospital hovering between life and death for several days, while the coroner's jury finally held that Private Bostic, who died shortly after the affray, had died from a wound inflicted with a pair of scissors.

Under the law of the territory a person found guilty of murder in the first degree can receive only the extreme penalty—death—and the court has no alternative if the jury returns that verdict. But although a prisoner may be tried on the charge of first degree murder, the jury is not bound to find him guilty or innocent in the first degree. Its verdict may be for guilt in the second or third degree class, or of manslaughter in the first, second or third degree.

Ever since the capture of Galmendez, who is a Porto Rican, he has been in jail, a first degree murder charge being unobtainable. Attorney Leon M. Straus, appointed by the court, appears as his legal counsel.

The special venire for which the court issued summons and which will be present tomorrow morning, contains the following names: George M. Raupp, John M. Thompson, Edmund Swan, Johannes J. Lecker, Clifford F. White, John Wallace, John Edward Kahua, Samuel W. Spencer, Irvine J. Hurd, Jesse M. McChesney, John E. O'Connor, Frank K. Archer, James K. Kershner and Cecil A. Mackintosh.

The employed officers of the Young Men's Christian Association will meet for a special conference tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock to discuss the part which the association is to take in the following-up of the Men and Religion campaign. The secretaries of the different departments will bring in recommendations for different lines of work which will be discussed by the body as a whole and on these recommendations to the board of directors will be based. The extensive religious work, which is under the direction of Lloyd Kilham, will receive particular attention.
